May 3, 2026

Good Morning Turf Club Members,

THE TPV ALGORITHM CRUSHES KENTUCKY DERBY CARD FOR SUBSCRIBERS!

Wow! The powerful Trackpro Value Rating (TPV) algorithm listed three TOP winners on the Churchill Downs card yesterday that generated a flat bet profit of +$19.16 from the fourteen races run! The fireworks started in R2 when the #1 OUT OF THE WOODS ($26.14) handicapped right on TOP, exploded the listed back to back PICK 5's that paid $8,785.52 in R5, and an incredible $13,866.64 in R7 for Trackpro subscribers! Eleven of the fourteen winners on the card were listed in the report with FOUR massive LONGSHOTS listed in the TOP TWO selections which paid as follows: (R2 - $26.14, R3 - $16.48, R7 - $15.62, R14 - $15.88). The listed $2.00 Daily Double (1 x 2) in R3 returned a hefty $243.58 for subscribers, and the listed 50 cent

PICK 3 (1 x 2 x 3) in R4 paid a rock solid $450.21! The listed 50 cent PICK 4 (1 x 2 x 3 x 4) in R5 returned an amazing $2,297.45, and the listed 50 cent PICK 5 (4 x 1 x 2 x 3 x 4) paid $8,785.52! But it was not until R7 when the 'old pro' John Velazquez brought home the #5 CLASSIC Q ($15.62) listed second in the report, to set up the massive 50 cent PICK 5 (2 x 3 x 4 x 4 x 2) payoff that paid a fantastic $13,866.64 for Trackpro subscribers! Make no mistake, the TPV performs EXPERT COMPREHENSIVE HANDICAPPING that gets results! Take a look at the incredible horizontal payoffs listed below just in the past two days alone for Trackpro subscribers!

FOUR TOP WINNERS! +12.20!

The six listed horizontal payoffs shown above, taken from the front page of the www.trackpro.us.com website adds up to a phenomenal $56,160.22! And there was never a need to use the "ALL BUTTON" in any leg to cash these payouts. Why? Because the powerful TPV algorithm will list the winner in the majority of races handicapped on most days, and it is this CONSISTENT expert handicapping that eliminates the need to include additional contenders on the horizontal tickets which can get very expensive. And keep in mind that the listed payoffs do not include the multiple DAILY DOUBLE, PICK 3, and PICK 4 payoffs that were listed in the reports!

Kentucky Derby-winning trainer Cherie DeVaux in the winner's circle with Kentucky Gov. Andy Beshear, who acknowledged her accomplishment as the first woman to win the Derby as a trainer

The above photo taken from today's edition of the Bloodhorse Daily Magazine shows why thoroughbred horse racing is such an outstanding and exciting sport. You just never know when history is going to be made! Trainer Cherie DeVaux became the first woman to win the Kentucky Derby in 151 years since the first race was run way back in 1875! The TPV algorithm did not list the #19 GOLDEN TEMPO ($48.24) in the report yesterday, but there can be no doubt this three year old colt sired by CURLIN had the credentials to win the race. Let's start with sire CURLIN: (foaled March 25, 2004, in Kentucky) CURLIN is an American Thoroughbred racehorse who was the American Horse of the Year in both 2007 and 2008. He retired in 2008 as the highest North American money earner with over $10.5 million accumulated. His major racing wins included the 2007 Preakness Stakes, 2007 Breeders' Cup Classic, and 2008 Dubai World Cup. In August 2008, Timeform assigned a 134 rating for Curlin, calling him the best horse in the world on dirt. Curlin was elected to the National Museum of Racing's Hall of Fame in 2014, his first year of eligibility. Since retired to stud, Curlin has emerged as a major sire whose offspring include Palace Malice, Keen Ice, Exaggerator, Good Magic, Stellar Wind, Vino Rosso, Clairiere, Malathaat, Nest, Cody's Wish, Elite Power, Idiomatic, Journalism, and Golden Tempo.” - Wikipedia. Then notice the four consecutive improving Brisnet Speed ratings (84-88-91-100) shown in the past performances above, each of which were earned at a longer distance! And the Late Pace figures were improving also. Then notice how this colt loves to close ground which is exactly how he won the Kentucky Derby yesterday. Jockey Jose Ortiz (26.04%) gave the colt a phenomenal and perfectly timed ride which was amazing to watch. Very few racing fans, or professional handicappers including Trackpro listed #19 GOLDEN TEMPO ($48.24) in their selections, but there can be no doubt this colt was sitting on a big race, and ran his heart out to get the victory by a neck at the wire to make history. Ch. g, (Mar), by Constitution - Sensitive, by Divine Park. Trainer D'Amato Philip. Bred by Daniel Burke & Kathleen Burke Schweizer (Ky).

The winner in R2 at Churchill Downs yesterday was the #1 OUT OF THE WOODS ($26.14). This three year old gelding sired by CONSTITUTION was way overlooked on the tote board at 12-1 odds, despite being marked by the TPV algorithm with a total of four Trackpro Handicapping Tools listed below:

Form Overlay (f) Tool: Horses marked with the Form Overlay (f) symbol should be watched carefully on the tote board. These horses are normally rounding into form, and have above average odds. Racing fans often overlook horses that have run well recently, but may have finished poorly last race or two. Very often a form overlay horse will have won a race two or three races back, or closed well passing horses in the stretch, but finished out of the money in its last race. This pattern often results in nice priced winners.

Chart Comments (c) Tool: The Trackpro software parses the comment lines in the past performances which are written by professional on track chart callers. The comment lines include many clues about how each horse ran in its last few races, and these comments are often used to help determine why a horse ran the way it did. For example, a horse might be showing a poor finish in its last race, but this might have been due to trouble at the start of the race, possible interference, or something else that prevented the horse from running its best. Sometimes the chart caller will be impressed with the way the horse broke from the gate, or won its last race. When our software sees an important chart comment, it will mark the horse with the Chart Comment (c) symbol.

Improving (i) Tool: The TPV algorithm takes into consideration horses that are Improving (I) in their last few races. Normally this is indicated by improved running positions, increasing speed figures, higher late pace ratings, and so on. Horses showing improvement often win in their next start, and sometimes are way overlooked on the tote board!

Sharp Shipper (x): Most professional handicappers know full well that when a trainer ships a horse to a new track, they are doing so for a very good reason. They think their horse has a legitimate shot to win! After all, it costs time and money to transport horses does it not? And not only that, there are plenty of other expenses involved, so it pays to look closely at horses in the past performances that previously raced at another track in their last race. One of the powerful Handicapping Tools that Trackpro developed for subscribers is the Sharp Shipper (x) symbol. When the TPV algorithm sees a horse that shipped from another track in its last race, and it thinks it can win, the horse is marked as a Sharp Shipper in the report!
